Since arriving here I have beard several interesting stories that have speer been in print. There is a gentleman here named Julia Galia. The old gentleman was made Richard Gallagher, and he was one of the ploneers. Everybody likes to kear gioneer stories, so I propose to tell one that was told to me by Mr. John Gallagher. In 1827 there came into old Mr. Gallagher's hat store a man who asked to look at a cap. He was shown a jumber of caps, and selecting one that suited, he stated that he would take four of them. The hatter was somewint as tonished to hear the man sake for four caps at once, especially as he said he wasted them altonished to hear the man sake for four caps at once, especially as he said he wasted them.
